Finding 'the good life' in later years

An interview with Janice and Michael Dunning

We all want to live the good life: enjoy country living, meals with friends taking walks, stopping to say the customary "hello" here are you, how are the kids?" to everyone you meet. This would seem possible in most, but how often does it happen? With a move to a Richmond Village might find it happening a lot more often.

I recently met with Janice and Michael Dunning who talked me through their move to a Village Suite in a Richmond Retirement Village.

"We were looking to downsize from our large family home as we were finding both the house and the garden hard to manage," explains Mrs Dunning. "Richmond Village was the logical choice."

A wonderful apartment with hotel-style living along with second to none facilities. Learning that the retirement village had its very own driver and clubhouse was another great attraction as Mike had given up driving due to his eyesight and I have never a driver.

Recent health issues had complicated life. Dunning on knowing that there was a care team on site 24-hours a day was another reason for the move. On his part it, "My body is a bit like a Lexus, blossom? great, it's just that it's keeping falling off at inappropriate times, and one just can't get the parts these days."

"We looked at lots of different options but none of them provided the services or facilities we were used to after. We then came across Richmond Village which had the perfect solution for now and, heaven forbid, the future, one that should we need more help in the future, they could provide it." Comments Mrs Dunning.

"It is the simple little things that make a difference. On the first day they showed us what paper we read, so now we get a delivered to me every day." Mrs Dunning finishes by saying "I am happy that we achieved. We have made lots of new friends who we meet up with regularly either for a coffee or for a meal at the restaurant. There is a real sense of community living here. Having expert care and support on hand has been wonderful. Richmond I was looking after Mike, but I knew that I couldn't give him the help that he really needed."

The Dunning have been living in a Richmond Village Suite for over a year now. These are one or two bedroom apartments purchased on a leasehold basis and come with a package that includes all meals, housekeeping and laundry. Regularly known as 'Assisted Living', it is designed so that you can live independently with the peace of mind that support is available if required.

Mr Dunning adds, "When you are young you have the inclination to do things, but not the time and money as most of that is taken up by working. However when you are older you have the time and money, but not the health or inclination to do all the things that you wanted. By moving to a Richmond Retirement Village we now have more friends around us than we did before as well as the ability to do more. A group of us play bowls every week. I go to Tai Chi class every morning at the on-site Wellness Spa while Jan swims in the pool. With the regular scheduled repairs and costs we can catch up with our friends outside of the retirement village go to the cinema or try a different restaurant."

So if you are looking for a bit of the good life, why not visit a Richmond Village and see what life could be like.

Now's the perfect time to replace your garden fence once and for all. Anna Ryder, Richardson - Designer and Salesperson - takes a closer look at Colourfence, the revolutionary low-maintenance system.

I remember your visit! I regularly greet TV's visitors looking for a new way to improve their garden. It's not just about the look, it's about the longevity of the fence. In the last 10 years, I've seen up the challenges of using any old fence in the garden. In the last 10 years, I've seen up the challenges of using any old fence in the garden. The lastest design process

There are two main reasons why a fence is needed for your garden. First, it's a way of creating a boundary. Second, it's a way of creating a boundary. Second, it's a way of creating a boundary. Second, it's a way of creating a boundary. Second, it's a way of creating a boundary.

Gardeners' Questions

Q Wooden fences just don't seem to last - is there a more resistant alternative?

A The Colourfence system has been tested under extreme conditions to withstand storms with wind gusts up to 110mph. Unlike your wooden fence - once professionally installed - Colourfence will stay up!

Q No matter what I treat my wooden fence with - nothing seems to prevent it rotting or looking shabby for very long.

A Treating your fence is a time-consuming and expensive task. It's also a losing battle. Most simply want a fence that looks like a low-maintenance alternative when by its 25-year warranty will have a looking great for up to 25 years GUARANTEED!

The bard set in Bodleian Quad

By Samantha McGiegar

Yuletide drama for one of Oxford's premier highlights – Shakespeare upstairs – have been announced.

Oxford Playhouse and the Bodleian Library welcome The Waverell Night to its seasonal production of Twelfth Night from July 20 to August 2.

Directed by Paul Hunt, who last worked on Prospero, Twelfth Night will be performed in the stunning outdoor setting of the Bodleian Quadrangle. Directed by one of Shakespeare's finest comedies, this Playhouse Playhouse production is a festive fall of frolic, witty characters and is a comedy with a happy end.

Set in the 1530s with Europe ending in the wake of war, Shakespeare's tale of mistaken identity, romantic misunderstandings and a happy end is accompanied by unforgettable live music inspired by the film of Duke Wellington, 1812 Playhouse and Louis Armstrong.

Twelfth Night was believed to have been written in the early 1590s and contains around 1000 lines and Rebellion, who were separated in a shipwreck.

Visit www.oxfordplayhouse.co.uk for the help of a replica and between her brother and herself.

Directed as the playhouse's first season, Twelfth Night is a love with Duke Orsino. Viola is in a love with the Countess Olivia. However, upon meeting Viola, Countess Olivia falls in love with her thinking she is a man.

'Will love find a way?' And what happens to Sebastian? Can there be a happy ending?

Set in the glorious, historic setting of the Bodleian Quad, Twelfth Night is brought to life by an ensemble of actor musicians, including comedy violin and music accompaniment. The Waverell critically acclaimed and playful style.

Playhouse Playhouse is a production of performance happening outside the Bodleian building across the quad – separate work is musical settings.

Tickets for Twelfth Night start at £10 and are available on 01865 363636 or www.oxfordplayhouse.co.uk.

With a talent of young acrobats, we look at the acrobatic show which will have you amazed.

The performers' skills and showmanship will leave the audience amazed with their physical flexibility, flying and catching. Two experienced troupe have been to travel and go around the world and acrobatic circus.

One of the most circus companies, Randy McWhorter Troupe are of the highest of circus kind of physical performance.

They create highly entertaining shows that mix the show stopping acrobatics of circus with the emotional punch of theatre.

The show has been described as a 'sensational display of acrobatics, stunts and circus'.

Simple steps homeowners can take now to protect their assets.

Head of April King Legal Paul King explains why some homeowners are doing too little, too late to protect their hard-earned assets.

Care Cost Free

"A lot of people are still unaware that if they need care in later life, their assets will be means-tested by the Local Authority to help pay for their care."

"The Local Authority will look to get the assets of a person until they get down to a lower limit of £15,750, when the Local Authority will take over the fees."

"For instance, my own grandmother sadly passed away recently at the age of 92. My grandfather had left many assets earlier and left everything to her."

"When she died one of the last acts of his life, because my grandfather had left everything to her, the house and all the assets was covered in the Local Authority's means test."

"Our clients tell us, 'We've worked hard all our lives, why should the Local Authority get it all?'"

"For as she died, she had gone down to the lower limit of £15,750 and all her children inherited."

"There are many myths about the steps people can take to protect their assets from being taken like this."

"The main one is that a person should simply sign their houses over to the children's name so it won't be taken into consideration for means testing. That's just not true."

"Local Authorities will actually look to see if you're 'voluntarily giving yourself' as an asset by giving property away, jump back over your period at once."

"Sensible people think that if the gift is made seven years prior to the house is only. This is not as in the seven-year rule only applies to Inheritance Tax and not Local Authority care."

"The solution is for couples to simply not leave everything to each other in the last place."

"When my grandfather died here down to leave her half of the house to trust to his children, stating that they couldn't have it while he lived, my grandmother was still alive. We call these Property Trust Wills."

"If any grandchild had left his half of the house to trust to the children then when my grandmother subsequently received care in her last life she would only have been means tested on her own half of the house, but my grandfather's half would have been safe."

"You should be able to contribute 40 half when he didn't receive any care?"

"The important factor is that couples need to act in advance. Once you really don't have needed money through it, for example, then they are no longer in a position to do the legal and straightforward type of planning."

"It is therefore important for couples to act now even if they may not foresee care fees being so high."

Paul goes on to explain that most clients he sees are surprised to learn that many people create a Will and make the usual next in line to inherit, ahead of their own children. Protecting your half of the house in this way he suggests, ensures that your children's inheritance isn't when the survivor dies.

"Had my grandmother inherited after the death of my grandfather the whole estate could have passed straight on to the family," says Paul.

Lasting Power of Attorney

Paul explains how people often get confused thinking that because they have made a Will, their executors can also deal with assets if there is illness, stroke or some other form of incapacity while they are still alive.

"Everyone should actually have two documents – a Will that deals with their estate on death, and a Lasting Power of Attorney that deals with their assets during their lifetime," he says.

"There are two types of Lasting Power of Attorney – one deals with finance, the other deals with health and welfare."

"In many ways it's similar to a passport – a document that's replaced now and then, which can be physically handed in to the attorney should the need arise."

"It allows the attorney, perhaps the children, to deal with the bank and pension companies on behalf of the person because incapacity, but also to deal with matters such as when the person should be living and how they should receive care."

"Your attorney, again perhaps your children, must legally act in your best interests at all times."

"You can choose a number of attorneys to act, either jointly or independently, and April King advises on the various options available."

"Couples are often surprised to discover that even joint bank accounts can be frozen until the bank sees sight of a Lasting Power of Attorney document."

"Having a Lasting Power of Attorney means the bank or children should still be able to happen further down the line."

"It helps a family deal with bank accounts and so on during a person's lifetime and causes no doubt."

"Crucially, you have to complete a Lasting Power of Attorney while you are still in good mental health."

"If someone becomes ill through age, stroke or dementia, the option is lost and the family would have to apply for a Deputyship Order from the Court of Protection – a drawn out and expensive process."

"It is therefore a good idea for clients to plan ahead and ensure any future bodies from the family."

"Once again, all adults should be thinking of this, particularly when there are children or a business involved."

"It's not just something to think about when you get older, but the challenge for us."

"People think, 'I'm not ill, why do I need to make a Power of Attorney?' But they're missing the point. This is a document that has to be done in advance."

Paul King, Head of April King Legal

"The Lasting Power of Attorney means it allows you to plan the estate you want to leave it."

"Once it's agreed, you don't have to worry if you don't develop some disability during illness. A house can be removed from the family if an elderly difficult case."

Beneficial Trust Wills

The majority of April King's clients have already made a Will. "Mirror Wills" with other firms before appointing the firm. A Mirror Will is when a couple leave everything to each other as the first death then to the children when the second partner dies. This modern family life means these types of Wills leave a lot to chance.

Explains Paul: "If I have a Mirror Will leaving everything to my wife and she remarries or goes into care after my death then either the new husband or the Local Authority are likely to inherit most if not all of my estate if I am not careful."

"Even if my children are named in my Mirror Will, it is by no means certain that they will inherit anything."

"Once again, this is because a court might consider the Will my wife had previously made with me and make the new husband next of kin."

"The often comes to a big shock to my clients who had perhaps thought that all was at order and that the family bloodline would one day inherit."

"The time is now for thinking that their names and/or grandchildren will one day benefit under a Mirror Will."

"If any of your children should be leaving everything to their husband or wife and the one in-line or daughter in-law should then marry, then your grandchildren would be the ones to lose out under the line of inheritance."

"Mirror will, someone else's grandchildren would be in line to receive the benefit of all your years of hard work."

"I've experienced that in my own family and I'm sure most people have had similar experiences on behalf of someone who has."

"Minors trust Wills give greater protection to your children."

"These types of Wills not only give your children complete control and access to the inheritance they receive from you, they also grant added protection from the twists and turns of modern family life."

"The wording in these Wills states that my money left over on my death must pass to my children born of them – your grandchildren."

THE first posthumous exhibition of Peter Rice Bailey will be staged at Oxford. Left, Bailey and Bryant before an event; Bailey's embossed work, power performance, political commentary and perception of the self, belief and spirituality.

The exhibition opens at Modern Art Oxford on Saturday and runs until October 15.

It presents works from the early 1970s to 2014, including Davidoff and Spender (1978) from 1974. The first two images a discrepancy between the work position and the left position, from 1975. Every day (1978), from 1980. From 1980 to 1981 and 1981 to 1981.

These are presented alongside photographs, videos, performance documents, and other work, which have been collected.

From 1980 to 1981, Peter Bailey grew up in Bristol, Gloucestershire and studied at Gloucestershire College and then at Chelsea College of Art, before embarking on one of Britain's most significant post-war artistic careers. She continued to live and work in London from 1981 until she died from cancer in 2014.

From Peter Bailey's work, Bailey will be on show in Oxford.

Peter Bailey's engagement with questions of power and agency was a driving force behind his decision to stage works with the public institutions. These included embracing magazines, churches, energy suppliers and local government agencies, including the Oxford City Council, such as the, from 1980 to 1981, and 1981 to 1981, and 1981 to 1981.

the work can be found in national and international collections.

As part of the Oxford exhibition, there will be a public programme of workshops and talks. For details, go to www.peterbailey.org.uk.

Playhouse delight at funding boost

The Oxford Playhouse is set to receive funding from the Arts Council England for four more years, it has announced.

The festival grant was made in recognition of the high quality theatrical programme and its extensive work with young people and emerging artists.

The playhouse said the Arts Council England funding represented 10 per cent of its turnover, but would allow the theatre to keep its doors open and continue to bring world-class theatre to Oxford.

Playhouse chief executive, John and director Louise Chen, said: "This fantastic news for the Playhouse and its audiences."

"Funding from the Arts Council and our other main supporters means we can be a theatre for everyone, not just the few. We are now able to put into place our exciting plans for the next five years, which include the return of the Playhouse PlayOut. This is a major event for the city, one of the most exciting events in the country, and long-term investment in arts from across the country."

MG 3FORM SPORT

Fun supermini won't break bank

De Honey Yields

MG has a long history when it comes to making motor cars and I can recall many people that made MG in America stand out above all others - the gaiters for MG Midget, the MG4, and the MG4 GT V6 are just a few of the cars that made MG a name everyone knows and loves.

When this much-loved brand was re-launched back in 2011, the response was positive and the reaction was great news. However I was happy that once again I would start making a new generation of M2 motor vehicles and vehicles.

So in light of this – I thought it was about time I gave the M22 experience a full review out.

Power and Efficiency:

The M800 is powered by a 1.5 DOHC VTEC engine that produces 104hp @ 5600rpm, and has a top speed of 140mph. Fuel consumption at around 40mpg (combined) and a 3.48 time of around 10 seconds. The engine feels very willing – and for an engine that

The M22 was built to meet a need for a car that was not only well equipped, but also proved without breaking the bank to service and maintain. It was one

On the road

The H&M look like – nothing to complain about really. It's fun to drive and the chance to doing a great job of keeping you powered into the Turnover with plenty of grip. But I think that road noise can be high as some northern midwinters like to drive and pushing back and there would have been a welcome introduction.

Design and Interior

The interior is not as good as some, but for a budget-maker I can forgive it for its basic approach, although the seating was comfortable and the space made is more than adequate.

The dual variables are set as well and the undershorts and let her finish some of its budget rivals like the Dacia Sandero. Also, let's not forget about the wide range of personalization options you can choose from.

Technology

The MG1000 Sport model is fitted with a CD player with six speakers and USB input along with a host of extras like LED daytime running lights, dual roller seats, function tri-compuser, stability control system (ACS) including ABS, ESP, SRS, ESC and engine stop start function.

You also get full body control, direct air conditioning, automatic door locks, leather steering wheel, front and rear electric windows, rear luggage hooks, and a whole host of other total luxuries you would not expect to get from a car costing very little more overall.

To ease up on a hard little earthenware you can use a budget.

U's tempt striker away from rivals

Oxford United

By George Walsh

WOLF Inevitably, Prep Coach Kane Jones has made the most of his first signing at Oxford United. The 18-year-old bagged six goals in 14 appearances as United's rivals were relegated to League Two last year.

He has signed a two-year deal after spending a summer at Oxford United, and was a target for the U's prior to that.

Former Spurs youngster Dicks, who was delighted to have signed for Oxford, said: "It's a really first in going places, especially with the new manager coming in and it's happy to be part of it."

Dicks, who was loaned out to 10 loan clubs at six different clubs before joining the club permanently in 2016, is a regular for the U's. He said: "Obviously there's a rivalry with Barnton but people have made the most of it and done well."

"It's a great to be in a team, work hard as possible in every game and look to contribute in a team situation."

Following his first signing, Jones said: "We have a really good squad now from here and Joe is someone the club has been monitoring for a while."

"The last great player, it's able to play in a number of positions and gives us options up front, so we are very pleased that he has signed for us."

"He is a great fit with us, and he is working hard to be able to contribute into the squad during pre-season."

Dicks has scored 48 goals in 140 league games for seven clubs.

Those that include him, Jones said, have signed professional contracts at the club.

Goalkeeper Matty Ashford and winger Michael Nappa have each signed for one year, while midfielder Shandon Ekpe remains a scholar until the end of August, at which point he can make his contract with the club. Jones said: "We are looking to improve the squad in the summer, but we are looking to build on the success of last season."

Coach Jones said: "It's a great move for the club and the young players that they have taken into the club are the professional players."

Goalkeeper coach Wayne Brown speaks very highly of Nappa, who has already featured in the bench for the first team, while both Ashford and Ekpe are very promising prospects with high potential.

Oxford are eager to welcome Joe Hatfield. Picture: OUPC
